Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Saturday 16 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry morning, some sunshine. Rain reaching western areas this afternoon.

Today:
Mainly dry with some sunshine, mostly over northern half of Scotland. Thickening cloud in the Southwest will bring light rain by early afternoon. The rain extending to many areas later this afternoon and evening although the north remaining mostly dry.

Tonight:
Much of Scotland will have a cloudy, milder night with outbreaks of rain, heavier in the Southwest. Northern Scotland and Northern Isles will be drier, cooler with a few showers.

Sunday:
Mostly cloudy with rain dying out in many places during the morning but lingering across the Northeast. Drier, brighter over Northern Isles with brighter interludes developing elsewhere in the afternoon.

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
An unsettled few days. It will be mostly cloudy and mild with bands of rain crossing the country. Rain will be heavy at times, especially on Wednesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.